Cello Method 2016-07-13

cellomind is a two part pedagogical method book that focuses on intonation and left hand cello technique the coauthors of the book are hans jørgen jensen professor of cello at the bienen school of music at northwestern university and minna rose chung associate professor of cello at the desautels faculty of music at the university of manitoba part i intonation the mystery of intonation is revealed by defining and explaining the scientific principles that govern it to know and understand how to combine the three primary intonation systems has never before been expounded in a methodology publication and for good reason playing with exquisite intonation has mostly been reserved for those who possess a strong intuitive sense however cellomind breaks down this taboo using a systematic approach with a highly attuned manner the three systems of intonation that string players most commonly use today equal temperament just intonation and pythagorean tuning are each explored and explained in great detail all chapters in the book include many practical samples and listening exercises that bridge the gap between the theory and its application the chapters on intonation conclude with practical examples from the following repertoire intonation performance practice in the bach solo cello suites and intonation performance practice with piano part ii left hand technique the left hand technique chapters in this section complement the study of intonation by providing a solid foundation of skills for essential cello playing the topics and exercises have been selected to cover a wide range of technical skills that include playing with a light left hand touch speed coordination balanced vibrato agility finger independence and efficient shifting original exercises developed for students over many years have also been incorporated into these chapters as well as studies from julius klengel bernhard cossmann louis r feuillard jean louis duport yakov rosenthal and fritz albert christian rudinger

The Complete Music for Violoncello and Pianoforte 2012-06

this resource considers the baroque cello s revival as part of the period instrument movement from the viewpoints of more than forty cellists from three generations and four luthiers who have worked on period cellos what emerges is a nuanced and detailed picture of the cello in the past and present and the varied instruments now played under the label baroque cello period instruments played with appropriate techniques have become a major presence in classical music for the cello which changed substantially between the sixteenth and eighteenth centuries it is challenging to describe specific traits for certain time periods through improvements in strings and the efforts of luthiers such as stradivari the cello became smaller and easier to play many controversies remain concerning the baroque cello s form including aspects of the bass bar neck fingerboard and bridge although an uneasy consensus on technical matters has emerged for baroque cellists today one still encounters significant questions on important issues doubts compound when period performers enter the classic and romantic eras by chronicling the searches of top cellists in england europe and north america the author reveals the great variety of forms that exist among what cellists call the baroque cello this is the first study in which the revival of a single period instrument has been considered in such qualified detail this book also offers many details concerning the history of the period performance movement in reference to famous ensembles and musicians this volume will be welcomed by musicologists luthiers and anyone interested in string history chats to cello students by arthur broadley is a musical study about violoncello playing in the first place it is impossible to thoroughly exhaust the whole science and art of cello technique and cello playing recognizing this it has been the author s aim to draw on his own experience as a teacher of the instrument rather than follow in the trail of any existing work with respect to the intentions of the work nothing can equal viva voce instruction and the personal supervision of a good master but it is to be feared that many who are really talented cannot afford lessons from anyone who is thoroughly capable of directing their studies it is this class of player who will derive the most benefit from a conscientious study of the ensuing pages
