prophet muhammad peace be upon him said the scholars are the heirs of the prophets for the prophets did not leave behind dinars or dirhams rather they left behind knowledge so whoever gains knowledge has gained great good fortune hadith by al tirmidhi classed as sahih by al albaani islam has become synonymous with global political jihad today and islamic spirituality is often mistaken for orthodoxy then how do young muslims hold on to their faith how do they open the door for others to appreciate the true beauty of their religion in his attempt to understand islam in its true form social activist and entrepreneur raamish siddiqui brings together the most thought provoking works of eminent scholar maulana wahiduddin khan through the maulana s writing raamish discovers that it was prophet muhammad who first lay the foundations of universal secular education that islam believes in gender equality and allegiance to the nation one is born in and that the quran makes it obligatory for its adherents to not engage in violence except in self defence in a deeply introspective introduction raamish talks about his own dilemmas after 9 11 and how he transformed as a person when he learnt to differentiate between the true spirit of islam and its misappropriation by those who have politicized it deeply insightful and in some ways provocative this is a vitally important guide to the most misunderstood religion of modern times

Face to Faith with Islam 2017-03-16

it s been almost ten years since i left the muslim faith i stopped believing in islam after i d made a serious study of the seemingly bottomless well of the islamic sacred texts a long and difficult task that required not only that i work on the commandments of my former masters the god allah and his prophet muhammad but also that i work on myself it led me to glimpse conclusions and consider concepts that until then i d never heard or seen elsewhere here in france islamic scholars talk about feelings motivations intentions and aims in this way they all draw the conclusions that the koran is not a source of problems and that the islam of the prophet muhammad is a religion of peace love and tolerance but do you know of a single global and systemic survey of the sacred texts of islam that gives a critical overview of the koranic dogmas and analyzes their limits without falling into moralizing or the manichean concepts of good and evil it s because i ve never found one that i decided to set myself the challenge of making the work i d always wanted available to the whole world this book in your hands is a different way that i suggest a new method to win the battle of the ideas against a totalitarianism without borders nor uniforms and that we simply call religion in our western world while islamophobia was present in our society before 9 11 it has become more pervasive in recent years this is evidenced by the current social and political climate hate speech and hate crimes directed at muslims and the supreme court s upholding of presidential proclamation 645 that effectively bans muslim immigration from coming to the u s what does this mean for muslim students in college and indeed for institutions of higher education as they navigate law and policy on the one hand and adhere to their mission of achieving inclusive and equitable educational environments on the other two thirds of muslims in the u s are vexed with current policy and there has been an alarming increase in reports of bigotry and discrimination against them since the 2016 presidential elections the fear of islam in general and muslims specifically not only compels non muslims to differentially treat muslims but also trade some of their own civil rights and civil liberties under the guise of national security to address these issues institutions require a nuanced understanding of laws and policies that institutionalize islamophobia and a greater understanding of the diverse college students that identify as muslim this book fills what has been a dearth of research that explores the experiences and navigation of muslim students in colleges and universities and addresses the even less studied domain of the experiences of muslim students who hold multiple marginalized identities such as race ethnicity and lgbtq status as well as the intersection of those identities that may create multiple burdens of oppression and discrimination this book begins by critically engaging with how current laws and policies institutionalize islamophobia and affect the intersectionality and diversity within the muslim community it includes multidisciplinary voices such as an international human rights attorney a civil rights attorney a criminal law attorney student affairs practitioners and research faculty whose work on this marginalized student population is traditionally not recognized within academic settings and brings the voices of female muslim scholars to the fore each chapter includes a critical analysis of the literature a legal analysis when appropriate a set of recommendations for policy and practice and discussion questions
