the word elements in the title of this book does not convey the implication that its contents are elementary in the sense of easy it mainly means that no prerequisites are required with the exception of some basic background in classical physics and calculus it also signifies devoted to the foundations in fact the arguments chosen are all very classical and the formal or technical developments of this century are absent as well as a detailed treatment of such problems as the theory of the planetary motions and other very concrete mechanical problems this second meaning however is the result of the necessity of finishing this work in a reasonable amount of time rather than an a priori choice therefore a detailed review of the few results of ergodic theory of the many results of statistical mechanics of the classical theory of fields elasticity and waves and of quantum mechanics are also totally absent they could constitute the subject of two additional volumes on mechanics this book grew out of several courses on meccanica razionale i e essentially theoretical mechanics which i gave at the university of rome during the years 1975 1978

the contact of one deformable body with another lies at the heart of almost every mechanical structure here in a comprehensive treatment two of the field s leading researchers present a systematic approach to contact problems using variational formulations kikuchi and oden derive a multitude of new results both for classical problems and for nonlinear problems involving large deflections and buckling of thin plates with unilateral supports dry friction with nonclassical laws large elastic and elastoplastic deformations with frictional contact dynamic contacts with dynamic frictional effects and rolling contacts this method exposes properties of solutions obscured by classical methods and it provides a basis for the development of powerful numerical schemes among the novel results presented here are algorithms for contact problems with nonlinear and nonlocal friction and very effective algorithms for solving problems involving the large elastic deformation of hyperelastic bodies with general contact conditions includes detailed discussion of numerical methods for nonlinear materials with unilateral contact and friction with examples of metalforming simulations also presents algorithms for the finite deformation rolling contact problem along with a discussion of numerical examples
