a muslim has no nationality except his religious beliefs said egyptian sayyid qutb a key figure in the world of political islam who was executed by the secular regime in his homeland in 1966 for decades the ideologues of pan islam have refused to accept the boundaries and the responsibilities of the order of states in trial of a thousand years charles hill analyzes the long war of islamism against the international state system hill places the islamists in their proper historical place showing that they are but the latest challenge to the requirements that states had placed on themselves since the international system was born in 1648 the author describes the many wars on world order over the modern centuries the french revolution and napoleonic wars world wars i and ii the cold war and gives a unique historical perspective to the islamic challenge of the twenty first century in iran afghanistan and beyond he concludes that america must not give up its values neither should we retreat by declaring that we will practice them only at home or by telling ourselves that our values are no more worthy than any others selected at random from among the world s many cultures the first step he says is to recognize the problem and then try to develop ways to deal with the exploitation of asymmetries by the enemies of world order the bible contains four gospels which tell the story of jesus of nazareth and yet many more gospels once existed who then determined which gospels would for the next two thousand years serve as the main gateways to jesus and his teaching recent books and films have traced the decision to a series of fourth century councils and powerful bishops after achieving victory over their rivals for the christian name these key players we are now told conspired to rewrite history to make it look like their version of christianity was the original one preached by jesus and his apostles the gospels of matthew mark luke and john became the prime tools for their re sculpting of the christian story leading to the destruction of previously treasured writings like the gospels of judas mary and thomas are the four canonical gospels then in the bible as the result of a great ecclesiastical conspiracy or does this explanation itself represent another rewriting of history this time by a group of modern academics who chose the gospels takes us to the scholarship behind the headlines examining the great and ongoing controversy about how to look at ancient books about jesus how the four biblical gospels emerged into prominence among their competitors is a crucial question for everyone interested in understanding the historical jesus and the development of the christian church the first chapters uncovers the origins of the first paragraph or chapter divisions in copies of the christian scriptures its focal point is the magnificent fourth century codex vaticanus vat gr 1209 b 03 perhaps the single most significant ancient manuscript of the bible and the oldest material witness to what may be the earliest set of numbered chapter divisions of the bible the first chapters tells the history of textual division starting from when copies of greek literary works used virtually no spaces marks or other graphic techniques to assist the reader it explores the origins of other numbering systems like the better known eusebian canons but its theme is the first set of numbered chapters in codex vaticanus what nineteenth century textual critic samuel p tregelles labelled the capitulatio vaticana it demonstrates that these numbers were not as most have claimed late additions to the codex but belonged integrally to its original production the first chapters then breaks new ground by showing that the capitulatio vaticana has real precursors in some much earlier manuscripts it thus casts light on a long continuous tradition of scribally placed visual guides to the reading and interpreting of scriptural books finally the first chapters exposes abundant new evidence that this early system for marking the sense divisions of scripture has played a much greater role in the history of exegesis than has previously been imaginable how were the johannine books of the new testament received by second century christians and accorded scriptural status charles e hill offers a fresh and detailed examination of this question he dismantles the long held theory that the fourth gospel was generally avoided or resisted by orthodox christians while being treasured by various dissenting groups throughout most of the second century integrating a wide range of literary and non literary sources this book demonstrates the failure of several old stereotypes about the johannine literature it also collects the full evidence for the second century church s conception of these writings as a group the johannine books cannot be isolated from each other but must be recognized as a corpus
